Product description

The AeroKit Carrera rear spoiler for Porsche 911 model 996 Carrera, including integrated brake light, is a high-quality addition to your vehicle that not only improves aesthetics but also increases aerodynamic efficiency. This rear spoiler is compatible with the Coupe, Cabrio and Targa body styles, making it a versatile option for various vehicle configurations. The OEM number for this specific rear spoiler is 99651290300G2X, which confirms its authenticity as an original Porsche part. This is a used part that is in very good condition but may show minor signs of use or storage. Please note that the colour of the spoiler differs from the image and repainting may be necessary to correct any scratches or other minor imperfections.

This rear spoiler is not only a visual enhancement, but also helps to improve driving stability at higher speeds by reducing air resistance and increasing downforce. The integration of the brake light also increases safety by ensuring better visibility of the vehicle.

In summary, the Porsche 996 AeroKit Carrera rear spoiler is an excellent choice for vehicle owners who value original parts, improved performance and an attractive appearance.
