Product description

This high-quality brake disc is specially designed for the front axle on the right-hand side of the Porsche 911 model 992 GT3 and GT3RS. It is an essential spare part that is supplied directly by Porsche as an original part to ensure the highest quality and performance. The brake disc is new, unused and undamaged, which guarantees optimum functionality and safety.

The OEM numbers for this brake disc are 9GT615302L, 9GT615302G and 9GT615302B. These numbers confirm the authenticity and specific fit for the corresponding vehicle models. Installing these original parts ensures that the vehicle's braking performance remains at the level you expect from a Porsche.

The brake disc is made from high-quality materials that guarantee a long service life and reliability under various driving conditions. Using original parts such as this brake disc also helps to maintain the value of your vehicle and can minimise future maintenance costs.

In summary, this brake disc is an excellent choice for owners of a Porsche 911 model 992 GT3 or GT3RS who do not want to compromise on the quality and safety of their braking system.
