Product description

Porsche | HEAD Series 7 skis - white/red. Porsche on the slopes: the new PORSCHE | HEAD Series 7 skis take corners like a sports car: stable, fast and dynamic. Their design is equally impressive: even when stationary, they exude dynamism thanks to their Le Mans-inspired number pattern and distinctive Porsche Motorsport colours. Thanks to their World Cup sandwich construction with a solid wood core reinforced with carbon and titanium layers, and aggressive sidecut, these performance skis deliver direct action on the slopes and quickly develop speed, but also offer good control at high speeds. The carbon binding plate distributes pressure perfectly between the tip and tail for ideal power transfer. Innovative EMC technology from PORSCHE | HEAD simultaneously reduces vibrations and improves stability. The new binding concept with full heel release can also significantly reduce the risk of cruciate ligament tears. The high-end ski construction and generous sidecut make the 7 series the ideal performance-oriented sports equipment for experienced carvers. How long should skis be? The length of skis depends on height, but also on skiing ability. Long skis are more stable at high speeds, but also require more strength when turning.
