Product description

This additional headlight with integrated indicator light is specially designed for the Porsche Panamera G2/971.2 Turbo, model year 971, and is located on the left side of the vehicle. It is an original Porsche replacement part with the OEM number 971953041BB. This product is new, unused, undamaged and ensures that it meets the exact specifications and performance standards of Porsche.

The combination of auxiliary headlight and indicator light not only improves the visibility of the vehicle in poor lighting conditions, but also increases safety by providing clear signals when changing direction. Installation is straightforward and uncomplicated, as the product has been designed specifically for the left side of the Porsche Panamera Turbo. Use this high-quality, original Porsche spare part to maintain the functionality and aesthetics of your vehicle.
